Mr. Willicox admitted that the city did stand to lose sometiting by having ES whole subway system in the hands of one company. He said that was the 'penalty" the city has to pay for getting "quick relief"-a binding together old lines with some new ones and $75,000,000 of private capital.

William R. Willoox further said: There is no desire on the part of the commission to shift any responsibility properly resting upon it. But the Board of Estimate has co-ordinate authority in such matters, and it ap peared to the commission that it would be well to have the board state its wishes in the matter.

"The commission believes that in view of all the circumstances, it would be best for the city to accept the prop osition of the Interborough Rapid Transit Company,"

The chairman reviewed the history of the negotiations with the Interbor ough from the time, a year ago last spring, when the company was pub-lishing advertisements in the newspapers in which it proclaimed, "We are ready to act." At that time the company offered to pay the entire cost of all the extensions it asked for out of its own money. NO RELIEF FOR BROOKLYN

Half of the population of the Greater City is in Brooklyn Borough. The plans accepted by the so-called Public Service Board provide no relief whatever for a congested and persecuted community. It is coldly abandoned to the tender mercies of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company, which for twenty years has made life a burden in the town.

The extension up Flatbush avenue touches a little settled region, and a third of the territory tapped is unbuilt or consists of park property. The Lafayette avenue line is a mere stub, distant from the real centre of population. It is not to be a loop, but a dead end. The Eastern Parkway line is held in the balance, and is of no value anyway, because the territory is unbuilt until distant East New York is reached, which is now the terminal of three elevated systems and the Atlantic avenue subway.

Brooklyn should take its supine members of the Board of Estimate by the neck and make them walk straight for once in the public interest. Brooklyn has the votes. She carries the city elections-and is regularly left in the lurch on transit questions. The city should how! with one voice!
